

JUMP RACE SERIES 2023/2024

We have once again put together a guide to this season's Jump Race Series for you to keep or download, in order to make it easier to manage plans for your horses. Series are listed in order of the date of the Finals and the specific qualification criteria for each series are also listed.

Please note: the majority of qualifiers do not include any provision to qualify if the race is abandoned, however replacement qualifiers may be added depending on the circumstances. Any series that do still have provision to qualify via abandoned qualifiers will state so clearly in their race conditions.

What's new for 2023/24?

Qualification for the Go North Series has been tweaked to make it more straightforward for connections to qualify horses for the respective finals in the Spring. For all Series other than the Grey Bomber and Jodami Series, horses must have started in three or more Jump races in the North* during the current season, at least one of which must have been in a qualifier for that respective final. For example, to qualify a horse for the Brindisi Breeze final a horse must have started in at least one Go North Brindisi Breeze qualifier and at least two other races in the North during the current season.

For the Grey Bomber Juvenile Hurdle, horses must have started in two or more Jump races in the North during the current season, at least one of which must have been a Grey Bomber series qualifier. Qualification for the Jodami National Hunt Flat series is unaltered: horses must finish in the first eight places in one Jodami Qualifier during the current season to be eligible for the final.

*North as defined in the BHA Fixture list as the following racecourses: Aintree, Ayr, Carlisle, Cartmel, Catterick, Doncaster, Haydock Park, Hexham, Kelso, Musselburgh, Newcastle, Perth, Sedgefield and Wetherby.

Where can I find a list of my qualified horses?

You can find these lists from the Racing Admin site by clicking on the Race Series option from your Fixtures & Races menu. The Racing Department will also issue email reminders to trainers and owners of qualified and part qualified horses for each series final.
